

December 22, 2013

Happy Birthday Manina!

You have a special day ahead of you tomorrow. You will be going on an all-expenses-paid, VIP ski trip to the world famous Sundance ski resort.

You will bring along one guest (your daughter, Megan). Before you leave for the day, you will first be treated to a gourmet breakfast especially prepared by renowned chef, Seth Johnson. You will then be whisked away by jet-black limousine (OK, really it's just a 2006 Kia Optima) to Rowberry Outfitters to be custom fitted with the greatest ski equipment money can buy (at garage sales).

Before you head off to Sundance Resort, you'll need to swing back by the house to pick up your packed lunch, which will also include a thermos of homemade hot cocoa (you'll be burning a lot of calories, so don't worry about it) and a delicious packed lunch and snacks to eat while on the slopes.

Before you head up to the mountain, you'll need to stop and pick up your VIP passes (you can cut to the front of the lift line) at Morinda's front desk. Ski as long as you want and have a great day on the slopes. Have fun and enjoy a great mommy-daughter date with Megan. You deserve it.

With Love,

Seth